

Career Information

Deciding on a career isn't easy, but there are several resources available to help your decision. Below are a few sites to help in your search.

Career One Stop – a national site

MnCareers - a guide to Minnesota career and educational exploration

Internet System for Education & Employment Knowledge \(iseek\)

Minnesota's web portal for education and employment knowledge

JA Career Center – a free online career assessment sponsored by the Allstate Foundation (www.studentcenter.ja.org)

O'NET - Nationwide web portal for education and employment knowledge

Occupational Outlook Handbook - U.S. Government publication that describes occupations, nature of the work, education/training needed, expected earnings and job outlook

Labor Market Information - The Minnesota Department of Economic Security provides labor market information, including salary guides and employment outlook

Life Works TM - provides health and medical science career information

Mathematical and Science Employment - provides information about nonacademic employment in math and science

Sporting Careers - the National Association for Sport and Physical Education has released this web site, featuring careers in sport and movement

Engineering Careers - information for elementary and high school students regarding engineering careers, university engineering programs and various fields of engineering

Engineering Careers – information to encourage females to enter engineering fields

Engineering Careers – another site that explores engineering careers

Career Interest Inventories - this provides quick asses to several career interest inventories

Best Jobs in the USA